

Students learn about force and motion

Tahoe Valley Elementary School students explore force and motion in a lesson by Get in the Act Science Theater in the spring. More than 75 students participated in the lesson, which combined theater techniques with guided inquiry. Led by Teaching Artist Diane Handzel, each lesson allowed students to use the creativity of the performing arts to embed science concepts in their minds.

Provided to the Tribune